AS AN ENVIRONMENTAL TECHNICIAN FOR VICTORIA GOLD AT THE EAGLE GOLD MINE,

Helaina Moses helps to ensure the mine is in compliance with all environmental approvals, permits and licenses. She works with the site's contractors to implement best management practices to prevent the discharge of wastes into the environment; including erosion and sediment control, solid waste storage, water and air quality sampling, climate station maintenance and wildlife monitoring and surveys.

An NND citizen and Mayo resident, Helaina enjoys working outside within her First Nation's traditional territory (especially when working close to her grandfather's trap line) on which her ancestors hunted, fished and trapped. "Being a steward of the land for NND and the Yukon as I help Eagle Gold Mine operate in the most environmentally possible and positive way is very rewarding for me," says Helaina.

When he's not eating, sleeping and breathing golf, Accounting Coordinator Tom Richardson is hard at work managing Victoria's busy accounts payable, purchase orders and Company general ledger duties. He joined the team last June. "With Accounting, there is always something new to learn," says Tom. "My role is both challenging and rewarding at the same time."

"One of the things I enjoy most about my job is being part of a team," says Drill and Blast Supervisor Stephen Dunfield, who is responsible for the supervision and coordination of the mine's drilling and blasting operations. "As a supervisor, I'm in charge of the safety of my crew and am driven to make sure everyone goes home safe at the end of their rotation." Stephen started with Victoria this past January and spent the last decade living and working in the Yukon.

Mike Goosney is Victoria's Site Operations Electrician and brings two decades of experience in mining and oil and gas to the Eagle Gold Mine. "The challenges of keeping the lights on here at site paired with the experience I've gained in my years as an electrician motivate me every day," says Mike.

Steve Tang has been with Victoria since August 2017 and as the company's Manager of Mining Engineering, oversees the long-term strategic design and planning of the mine.

"I love my job because everyone at Victoria shares a common vision and is dedicated to the success of the Eagle Gold Mine. This truly creates an environment of family at site where everyone is there for one another" says Steve.
